2 KEY WAYS TO REACH YOUR TARGET AUDIENCE

When you advertise your products in Specification Product Information Cards we go that extra mile to ensure we expose your products to as wide an audience as possible.

Today's busy specifiers are using a multitude of media platforms to gather product and manufacturer information and Specification Product Information Cards now offer you 2 exciting ways to reach your target audience. Published on a large size quality card to enhance your company's message in print, we also feature your products on a new web card platform.

CIRCULATION

Building industry manufacturers and suppliers need to reach building professionals who are working and specifying products. Specification Product Information Cards use a combination of the extensive TSP Media database to identify those primary specifiers who are actively seeking product information and Glenigan project sales data to identify those specifiers who are actually working on live projects.

Advertisers opting for the Product of the Day platform will benefit from the increasing daily visitor levels to Specification online. We have an average of 9,400 unique visitors per month.
